Oil Crew Pleads Self-Defense

Espionage on Sinclair Panel Advanced as Right in Contempt Charge

"Persecution by Congress" of Chief Defendant Held
Excuse for Acts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Denial that Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and four associates were guilty of criminal contempt of court in employing Burns' detectives to shadow the Fall-Sinclair oil-conspiracy jury was made today when they faced Justice Frederick L. Siddons to explain why they should not be punished.

The six men demanded that the allegations be dismissed because the charges preferred against them by the government did not constitute a crime and because the court lacked jurisdiction in view of the "indefiniteness" of the charges.

The same points were made the basis of argument by counsel for the defense during which Daniel Thaw Wright asked why Dist. Atty. Gordon had not cited for contempt the only two men who are known to have approached a juror.

TALKATIVE JUROR
Wright referred to Don E. King, a newspaper reporter, and J. Ray Akers, a former street-car conductor, who filed affidavits asserting that Juror Edward J. Kidwell had talked to them of the case. They said Kidwell had expressed the hope that when the Fall-Sinclair trial was over he would have an "automobile as long as this block."

When the contempt proceedings were inaugurated Justice Siddons, in the District of Columbia, Supreme Court, asked Gordon to file a petition, citing Kidwell for contempt, but this has not been done. Gordon has held the Kidwell action separate from the Sinclair proceedings and said he would file charges against the juror later.

DEAN INGE JEERS AT FETISHES

He Liked Black Cats in His Path and Will Eat Meat
With Twelve Others

LONDON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Dean Inge, rather than to have a black cat cross his path. He does not touch wood as a protection against supposed bad luck.

In fact, the gloomy dean doesn't mind sitting at table with twelve others any time if there is a good meal in sight.

The dean has denounced these taboos and minor rituals as popular superstition. He commends the study of science as a deliverer from this "mumbo jumbo."

He thinks it "shameful and discreditable" that anyone in these intelligent times should refuse to sit thirteen at dinner or touch wood if he has said anything boastful or anything that might bring bad luck. Cats have nothing to do, he holds, with good fortune or bad.

Answers of the six men cited for contempt, charged, Henry Mazon Day, Sheldon Clark, W. Sherman Burns and C. L. Vetsch, were filed. The District Attorney found himself swamped and asked for a recess in which to study the answers and the law involved. This was granted and court reconvened several hours later. Wright began the arguments for dismissal of the charges.

"SELF-DEFENSE," ANSWER

Sinclair in his answer said he had instructed Day, vice-president of the Sinclair Exploration Company, to hire Burns' detectives to shadow the jury "solely to keep said jurors under observation for the purpose of ascertaining what persons, if any, came in contact with the said jurors, to the end that he might know if any person who might be desirous of seeing him convicted of the charges against him should endeavor in any way to shadow him, and if so, to report the same to him." Sinclair said he believed that he had a right "as a citizen of the United States" to have the trial jury shadowed. "The oil man said he believed the government prosecution of him in the oil case had been conducted in a manner and in accordance with the usual procedure pertaining to the trial of criminal cases and asserted he had been made the object of 'special prosecution' initiated, sponsored and nurtured by the Congress of the United States in a manner and to an extent never before visited upon a citizen of the United States."

"NO CRIME" ARGUMENT

Through the answers of all ran the assertion that the purpose of the surveillance was solely to learn whether anyone approached the jurors and that none of the detectives had sought any connection with the defendants.

Wright in his argument declared that if all the allegations of the government were proved to be true there still would be no basis for contempt proceedings.

If it were shown, he said, that there was intent to bribe or influence the jury, then those so charged would have to be held under the criminal statutes and would be entitled to a trial by jury.

FIGHT TO OUST DOHENY COOLS

Eight National Convention

Groups Caucus Under Cover in Crusade Move

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—The crusade to eliminate Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny from the directorate of the American Petroleum Institute appeared to have lost some fervor today, when 2500 leaders of the oil industry gathered here for their eighth national convention.

Unless the sentiment should crystallize more decisively early tomorrow when the nineteen groups of 325 councilors, representing the various industrial, trade and geographic groups of the oil industry, suggest nominations for the directorate of the institute or unless Sinclair or Doheny should express unwillingness to be re-elected, the prospect is at a late hour tonight are that the institute will take routine action and elect the new directors.

It is reported that Doheny does not want to retain his place on the directorate, but no official statement is forthcoming from him or his friends.

CAUCUS UNDER COVER

Caucusing under cover went on today and late into the night, but the present prohibition laws are enforced better than an "institute" that we have ever had for the regulation of liquor traffic.

The struggle to maintain the validity of the Eighteenth Amendment and to obtain the enforcement of the Volstead Act, he said, is the greatest test of the strength of the Constitution since the Civil War.

"Freedom for the use of the Army and Navy in enforcing the prohibition amendment is provided by the action of the government at the time of the Civil War," Bishop Nicholson asserted.

The United States has registered an economic progress since the enactment of the prohibition laws unequalled by any other nation.

Law-enforcement committee asks planks.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Resolutions calling on each political party to include prohibition enforcement in its platform were passed today by the United States Congress for Law Enforcement.

The committee, concluding its session, passed an official protest to the Senate against setting William S. Vare as a Senator from Pennsylvania.

Parisian Press Laughs, Jeers and Rants Over Use of Cosmetics by Stern and Ugly Sex. With Many Defending Made-up Males as Virile

PARIS, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—Cosmetics for men are getting serious consideration in the Parisian press. The fact that many Frenchmen and, for that matter, many foreigners living in Paris, are going in for facial make-up has made the discussion more heated.

Strangely enough the public seems to show more interest in the modern affectation of the male that it is able to argue its pros and cons objectively without linking it up with

Because of what divine decree the so-called ugly sex condemned always to appear with a shiny nose and a clayey complexion? asks with perfect solemnity a writer in Le Soir.

"To be virile, you don't have to be ugly," says M. Maurice DeWaleffe, one of the best known of French journalists, in the Paris Midi. "An oily skin, blue lips, eyes without well-marked brows, ugly eyelids, a red nose are accidents that can happen to any man. But why put up with them?"

It is not known whether or not M. DeWaleffe paints and powders, but it is common knowledge that he is an active sportsman and popular with women.

He goes on: "There is a myth that this sort of thing attests a weakened virility. Anatole France once said that the armies that have conquered the world were those that were the hairiest and the dirtiest. Arthur Rimbaud, the poet, wrote, 'conquering warriors smell strong.' But this is all nonsense."

WHITE SLAVERY REPORT MADE

is quoted as saying a theatrical employment agency in New York supplied him with all the girls he needed, while New Orleans, Tampa and various Southern cities also are described as centers from which Mexican cabarets have recruited girls.

The report states very young girls are smuggled into American west coast cities by Chinese secret societies, chiefly in San Francisco.

Since the passage of the Mann Act and the closing of houses of ill-fame in American cities, the report says, most of the old-time leaders of the American white-slave traffic have become bootleggers.

The report says there is little evidence of immigration into Canada for immoral purposes apart from the commercial sex traffic.

Frontier by women from the United States. In spite of the long and hard fight, the report says, received each year, the experts found little traffic in women either in or out of Canada.

EVANSON OF LAWS

The report on Mexico indicates that women are taken there for immoral purposes by evasion of the Mexican laws. This Juarez, Tampico, Tijuana, Mazatlan and Mexico City are among the cities discussed.

It states that American girls are numerous in the United States and says many girls enter Mexico as prostitutes.

The Juarez is pointed out as typical of seasonal traffic, houses being opened during the winter months and closed during the summer, when large crowds flow over the California border.

Concerning Cuba, the report says that women and girls come from all over Havana without difficulty, either by procuring false passports, traveling as married women or disembarking from their steamers at Havana.

The report concludes its summary on the Cuban situation by saying that as a result of stern measures taken by the Cuban government, the traffic has been reduced to a minimum.

PROTEST BY BRIAND

An outstanding feature of the white-slave report is the protest of M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister, against what he terms the publication of confidential information which cannot be controlled.

"Most of which," M. Briand says, "seems to be based on the work of private agents, and not by the members of the white-slave committee themselves."

M. Briand adds that the information appears chiefly to have been gleaned from the exploits of women turned down by the police.

HOOVER GIVES AVIATION AIMS

Regulations Aid to Progress,
He Tells Air Leaders

Chief Development Seen in

Great Strides Without Use of Subsidy Stressed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Leaders in commercial aviation summoned to Washington to consider the government's part in air development were told today by Secretary Hoover that the Commerce Department's only purpose in laying down air regulations is to aid the progress of aviation. He asked for advice and suggestions.

The secretary estimated that 2000 airplanes have been manufactured for commercial use in the United States this year and that 12,000 miles per day are being flown by machines in commercial service.

He predicted the utility of air transport in the United States during the next few years will be the greatest in the movement of goods and mail rather than in the carriage of passengers.

SIGNIFICANT POINT

"One thing is significant about the development," Mr. Hoover said. "There is not a mile of commercial air flying done with the aid of government subsidy in the United States and yet in Europe, where there has been some greater development of commercial passenger airways, I do not believe there is an air line running without the aid of government subsidy."

During the discussion of the government's air-regulation policies Charles Chamberlain, the trans-Atlantic flyer, appealed for considerable leniency. He said he might have been unable to pass some of the rigid medical tests imposed upon present-day applicants for pilot licenses if he were

ANGLO-RUSSIAN SPLIT UNHEALED

Litvinoff and Chamberlain Confer in Vain

Firm Stand of Each Casts Shadow Over Geneva

France Tells Soviets She Hopes for New Pact

GENEVA, Dec. 5. (P)—Refusal of the soviet government to accept responsibility for any Communist propaganda in England defeated an attempt to settle the Anglo-Russian quarrel today.

Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation to the preparatory disarmament conference, who stayed over for a talk with Sir Austen Chamberlain, is understood to have emphasized to the British Foreign Secretary that the Moscow government cannot repeatedly be blamed for any agitation carried on by the Third International.

The separation of the two statesmen without even discovering the slightest foundation for a possible later agreement leading to resumption of diplomatic relations between the two countries, which was really anticipated Russia's return to the European concert of nations, was a serious blow to the opinion was widely voiced that today's failure should not necessarily be deemed conclusive. Additional efforts are expected.

JOIN IN PEACE PLEA
France, Germany, Great Britain and Russia, all are lending a hand in the effort to reconcile Poland and Lithuania and effect a settlement of the quarrel arising from Poland's seizure of Lithuania, which has prevented the two neighbors from entering into diplomatic relations.

Sir Austen Chamberlain received Premier Waldeck-Rousseau today, and discussed with him the situation which is giving the League of Nations considerable uneasiness. Foreign Ministers Stresemann of Germany and Briand of France, and Vice-Commissar Litvinoff of Russia, have talked over the Polish-Lithuanian clash with Waldeck-Rousseau, who has been urged by all to approach the League Council in presenting his complaint against Poland as an conciliatory spirit as possible.

Litvinoff, who plans to depart tomorrow for Moscow, has been assured by M. Briand that France considers the incident of the seizure of the soviet Ambassador, Christian Rakovsky, as closed and expects to renew conversations with the soviet government on the proposed pact of nonaggression as soon as the new soviet envoy arrives in Paris to succeed Rakovsky.

OPTIMISM GROWS
M. Briand indicated tonight that in his view too much was being made of a rumored meeting to take place between himself and Premier Mussolini of Italy to iron out differences between their countries. The French Foreign Minister explained that as a result of the circulation of reports that he does not wish to see Mussolini, he thought it desirable to put the situation in a proper light and consequently said in a speech to the Chamber of Deputies that he always will be glad to talk to the Italian Premier. He said, however, that there is no question of his traveling to Italy for that purpose.

One development which has contributed to the optimism of statesmen was an announcement from the Polish delegation that Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany and Zaleski of Poland had a satisfactory discussion of German-Polish relations and had pushed forward negotiations for a treaty of commerce and friendship.

HUNGARY COMPROMISES
Hungary has submitted a compromise plan for the settlement of the dispute with Rumania concerning the property of Hungarians in the province of Transylvania which was annexed by Rumania.

Count Bethlen, Premier of Hungary, had been asking for complete indemnity of all property sequestered. He now has abandoned his claim for ample land, insisting only on full indemnity for forests and vineyards and buildings.

The Council of the League of Nations today decided to adjourn until the March meeting. They so telegraphed Nicholas Titulescu, Rumanian Foreign Minister, who will not start for Geneva.

Arizona Can't Find Witnesses in Liquor Cases

PHOENIX, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—Explaining the nonappearance of official witnesses in cases called today before the United States court in Phoenix, John H. Udall, Federal prohibition agent for Arizona, declared "more than half of my staff has been ordered to Los Angeles by Federal Prohibition Administrator McFadden, despite my protests. If they are not in court tomorrow a lot of our cases are going to be thrown out."

The assistant United States Attorney was ordered by Judge Jacoby to advise the Department of Justice why the Federal prohibition administrator in Los Angeles is not co-operating with the court, and that cases cannot be tried when officials are not present to testify. Five local agents are said to have been ordered to Los Angeles.

He will succeed Dr. R. W. O. Francis, who recently resigned as chief of staff of the Speedway Hospital.

Architect Body of Bay City for American Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—The right of any person to seek, secure and retain work for which he is fitted and the right of the employer to engage or disengage employees should not be abridged or denied because of membership or lack of membership in any organization or association of any kind. This was the declaration made and approved at a recent meeting of the Society of Architects of the Bay Industrial Association in support of the plan and recommending close co-operation with it on the part of individual members of the society.

Since the establishment of the plan in 1921, the East Bay district has enjoyed the biggest building program in its history, officers of the society declare. The plan has had a beneficial effect, they say, and has brought about almost complete freedom from labor disturbances since its inception.

Mother Held in Jail Identified as Bandit Aide

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—Red-haired Mrs. Lorene Wilson, mother of three children, was identified tonight as the woman who has participated in a series of hold-ups in Oakland and San Francisco, police announced.

With two male accomplices, her husband, Harry Wilson, and Willie Jeffries, Mrs. Wilson had been held in Oakland awaiting identification of victims of hold-ups the three are said to have committed in the last several weeks.

Today Mrs. Robert Wood accompanied San Francisco detectives to Oakland and picked Mrs. Wilson from a group of five as the red-haired woman who helped two male companions rob a chain store. She also identified Willie Jeffries as the man who went inside the store and robbed Mrs. Rose O'Connor, the manager, while Mrs. Wilson sat at the driver's seat of the automobile awaiting their return.

Greek War Debt Refinanced and New Loan Given

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—A refunding of the Greek debt and a further advance to that country, the whole to be repaid over a period of fifty-two years, was agreed on by the State and Treasury departments and the Minister of Finance.

The debt totals $19,889,830, representing the principal and interest since 1918 on money loaned to assist Greece in the war.

Under the agreement the United States will lend Greece an additional $12,167,000 in cash payable in twenty years at an interest rate of 4 per cent and a deposit on January 1, next, Greek securities for the larger sum, being interest at 8 per cent.

JAPANESE FARMERS TO RAISE TURKEYS

IMPROVED AMERICAN STOCK BOUGHT BY NUCLEUS OF INDUSTRY

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5. (P)—Turkey raising soon will be one of the leading pursuits of those residing in the agricultural districts of Japan, according to information reaching the State Department of Agriculture from Japanese sources. And at the same time this information and other advice indicate the food habits of the Japanese are changing as imports from the United States are being introduced in this country and also are seeking to be placed in contact with shippers.

One of the largest importers in Kobe recently informed the department that they plan to import from California improved varieties of turkeys as the nucleus for building up an industry which already is fast becoming a regular occupation of the farmers.

BUTLER ON SIDE OF KANSAS CITY

G.O.P. Chairman Springs Convention Surprise

San Francisco Declared to Have Lost Race

Detroit and Philadelphia Partisans Active

BY ROBERT R. ARMSTRONG
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—Without any warning and to the complete astonishment of the other members of the Republican National Committee, Chairman William M. Butler today authorized a statement that he favors holding the next national Republican convention at Kansas City. The announcement was made by Emilio Kuntz, Republican national committeeman from New Orleans, and was later confirmed by the chairman. The announcement came right after the executive committee of the Republican National Committee had disposed of all routine matters in preparation for the meeting of the full committee, which opens tomorrow at the Willard Hotel.

The principal purpose of this meeting is to fix the place and time of the next national convention. Inasmuch as it will have to adjourn early tomorrow to permit all the men and women members to attend the White House reception by President and Mrs. Coolidge, there will be little chance that final decision as to the place will be reached until Wednesday afternoon.

ADVANTAGE CHANGES
Up until the announcement of the chairman's choice came like a bombshell, Detroit seemed to have the lead, followed by Cleveland, with Kansas City third in eventuality. San Francisco, which probably would have had the convention with Coolidge in the race, gradually has been losing the lead and when it was decided that, with Congress in session up to very eve of the convention the convention ought to be held within a night's ride of Washington, Detroit seemed to have more recommendations than any other eastern city.

Tonight the Pennsylvania delegation, which is anxious to get the convention for Philadelphia, had a late hour session at the Mayflower Hotel, when efforts were made to offset the lead of Kansas City by an agreement of all eastern cities on one place—probably Detroit—to insure a convention being held close to Washington in time for all the Senate and House members to attend and be there in time for the preliminary conferences before the opening of the convention.

OPPOSES BAY CITY
Another dinner was given at the Mayflower Hotel by Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, vice-chairman of the committee, and the head of the women of the Republican party. Mrs. Hart has steadfastly refused to favor San Francisco and wants a place closer to Washington.

With two male accomplices, her husband, Harry Wilson, and Willie Jeffries, Mrs. Wilson had been held in Oakland awaiting identification of victims of hold-ups the three are said to have committed in the last several weeks.

Today Mrs. Robert Wood accompanied San Francisco detectives to Oakland and picked Mrs. Wilson from a group of five as the red-haired woman who helped two male companions rob a chain store. Hearst Sued for Half-Million on Mexico Stories

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (P)—Dr. Ernest Gruening, editor of the Portland (Me.) Evening News, whose name was mentioned in one of a series of asserted disclosures concerning Mexico, published in Hearst newspapers, brought suit for libel today in which damages of $500,000 were demanded.

The New York American, Inc., William Randolph Hearst, Arthur Brisbane and the editor and managing editor of the American were named defendants.

The complaint brands as false references to Dr. Gruening in these articles and charges the statements were made maliciously without proper investigation and also charges that the defendants had effectuated the statements after they had been explicitly denied by Dr. Gruening.

The article in question asserts that an order was drawn to pay Dr. Gruening for work for the Mexican government in England.

WIDOW TELLS
MURDER STORYMrs. Lilliendahl Describes Attack by NegroesAccused Woman on Stand for All-Day SessionTells of Marks on Map in Frame-up Charge

MAY'S LANDING (N. J.) Dec. 5. (AP)—Garbed in her widow's weeds, Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, 38, today told the jury the manner in which two negroes killed the aged husband with whom murder she is charged.

Willie Beach, the elderly chicken farmer who jointly is charged with the widow and whose infatuation for her is put forward by the state as the motive for the crime, listened to the testimony which characterized him as innocent with a twisted smile on his pallid lips.

From almost the beginning of today's session Mrs. Lilliendahl occupied the stand in her own defense and when court adjourned for the day she had not yet completed her ordeal.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Lilliendahl was more dramatic than the direct. Once she tied a handkerchief about her face like a robber's mask to show how the negroes had looked when they first "boarded" the Lilliendahl automobile, like marauding pirates. Again she held up against her the blue-print dress she had worn on the day of the killing and demonstrated how one of the negroes, she said, grabbed the garment at her neck and pulled it almost from her body.

Tells of Attack. "We were driving along the Atchafalaya road very slowly," she said in a choking voice, "when suddenly two masked negroes boarded the car, one jumping to each running board. 'Drive in that lane,' the one on my side said, 'and don't yell.' I don't know whether I started the car up that lane or whether it was guided for me."

"But I remember stopping in the lane. The door on my side was opened and one of the negroes grabbed me by the V-neck of my dress. As he jangled me out of the car I heard a shot and then I fainted. Before I had regained consciousness there was a time when I could hear sounds, although I could not move my feet."

"I remember hearing one of the negroes say, 'Beat it, go.' Some time later I came to, saw what had hap-

CONVICT HERO OF DISASTER

BORDEAUX, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—One of the heroes of the operations connected with the sinking of the Italian steamer Principe Amedeo, recently in South American waters, a man known as M. Courbier, is discovered to be an escaped convict from the French penal colony on Devil's Island. He was a stowaway aboard the steamer, the French liner which took aboard most of the passengers of the Amedeo.

During the rescue Courbier suddenly appeared and volunteered to Borman one of the Amedeo's boats and pened and crawled down to the road for help."

Mrs. Lilliendahl was overcome with emotion the moment she was called to the stand and she wept at intervals all day. She was calmer, however, under cross-examination than under the questioning of her own lawyer.

JURORS AVERT EYES. Mrs. Lilliendahl developed a habit of making her answers, instead of to the lawyers who asked them, direct to the jury, and especially to the woman foreman, Mrs. Carrie L. Calkins of Atlantic City. Mrs. Calkins never met her glance and when the defendant-witness turned her regard slightly to Juror No. 2, Mrs. Grace Wingate, she too looked away.

At one time as the grim trial progressed the defendant's 8-year-old son slept peacefully not twenty feet away, his head pillowed on the knees of his uncle, J. Sherwood Thompson. Along toward the end of the session Mrs. Lilliendahl was asked if she remembered that police shortly after the crime had asked her whether her husband was jealous and what her answer had been to the question.

"I think I said," she replied with a half-smile, "that he was jealous of anyone who looked at me, man, woman or beast. He said he was even jealous of his own cousin."

"Then he was jealous of Willie Beach?"

"No," she said, "at least he never told me he was."

Before the session was ended Mrs. Lilliendahl had aroused her tears to testify that soon after she was arrested she began to suspect that the state was attempting to "frame" her.

FRAME-UP CHARGE. She was being shown two road maps found in her pocket the day of the crime. State troopers previously had "redrafted" for the state the dots marking the place of the crime on both maps had been there when the maps were found and the inference was that Mrs. Lilliendahl had used them as her guide to drive her husband to his death.

"Did you make those pencil marks?" counsel asked her.

GANG ATTACKS
CHICAGO CAFEOne Dead, Two Dying, Six
Wounded in BattleTwo Hundred in Terror as Bullets Fly in RoomPolice in Crowd Open Fire on Hold-up Band

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—Following a "wild west" hold-up of the crowded Parody Cafe early this morning one person is dead, two women are dying and six others are badly wounded. The 300 terrified men and women who escaped slugs from snarled shotguns and machine pistols still are in a hysterical state. When the roar and smoke of the swift battle was over, the scene resembled a battlefield.

Harry (Peanut) Smith, a waiter, lay dead, the top of his head blown off by a shotgun charge as he tried to race past one of the robber "look-outs." Two women, one a guest and the other an entertainer, were walking in their own blood. Five of the bandits were stretched out on the floor, badly wounded, and the other victim, a policeman, was prostrate on the sidewalk in front of the cafe, his hip smashed by a slug.

DIVE FOR COVER. Tables and chairs were smashed and overturned, clothing torn and dishes and glasses shattered as the howling men and screaming women dived for cover under tables or other victims. The scene was a chaotic one. Two of the bandits, one of them wounded, escaped in the confusion.

Bennie Silverman, shot in left side and back, may die. Also held as one of the gangsters. Edward Cummings, shot four times in body, may die. Held as leader of the gang.

Rocco Torona, alias "Rocky Joyce," picked up at his home with bullet wounds in body and held as one of the gangsters.

GUNNED DEER FLAY. Meyer Golan, the only suspected member of the gang that is not wounded, runs a beer stand. A year ago he shot and killed a taxicab driver in a quarrel over the bill, but political influence saved him.

The attempted hold-up failed because Policemen Charles Cohen and John Fried were among the guests. When the bandits burst in with a demand for all to put up their hands the two policemen dropped behind tables and opened fire. Cohen shot down the first bandit and his next bullet brought down Cummings, the leader of the gang. A dozen shotguns and pistols were spitting death. Just outside were Policemen Leland Larson and James J. Sweeney, off duty, but well armed. They whipped out their heavy service revolvers and potted the bandits as they ran out.

In the general melee one of the robbers dropped a large bundle of costly fur coats, a store of held up a number of women as a pretense to the cafe hold-up.

RECLAMATION BOARD. WARRANTS DISCUSSED.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Clerical arrangements for releasing outstanding reclamation board warrants in amounts more usable by land owners in meeting assessments and other charges levied by the state were discussed today by A. Under a law passed by the 1927 legislature, the state can issue two or more warrants to cover any outstanding claims, the theory being that smaller sums can be used more readily than the larger ones.

FOSDICK URGES

Support Argument

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, modernist pastor of Park Avenue Baptist Church, is on record today in support of birth control as the solution for overpopulation.

"You cannot trust God to bring everything off all right if you let the earth's population double every sixty years," Dr. Fosdick told his congregation yesterday. "If we do so we will reap starvation, unemployment and physical and moral decay."

LAUREN DEAN ENO. "Dean Inge of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, has taken his share of obloquy because he has said in his straightforward fashion that there is no hope for the basic social problem of population except in the scientific control of birth." All honor to him. He is not a sentimentalist. He is facing the facts.

"We should take the shackles off the physicians and let them tell the nation that there is no hope for the solution of the population problem except in the scientific control of the birth rate."

"Here in the United States we are sufficiently anxious over this situation that we have checked immigration. I am a restrictionist because I am not a sentimentalist."

CHECK FLOOD. "A sentimentalist might say, 'Let everybody freely in, but only who faces the facts must see that from the standpoint of this country we cannot handle the problem either physically or morally if, with the pressure of population, we let the swelling overflow of the world's people flow freely in, and if we should, we would not solve anybody else's problem.'"

Dr. Fosdick applied the theory of a law-abiding universe to the matter of personal morals, attacking the doctrine of the new psychologists who say that a fuller expression of emotional life is desirable for the health of the individual.

wounded, runs a beer stand. A year ago he shot and killed a taxicab driver in a quarrel over the bill, but political influence saved him.

The attempted hold-up failed because Policemen Charles Cohen and John Fried were among the guests. When the bandits burst in with a demand for all to put up their hands the two policemen dropped behind tables and opened fire. Cohen shot down the first bandit and his next bullet brought down Cummings, the leader of the gang. A dozen shotguns and pistols were spitting death. Just outside were Policemen Leland Larson and James J. Sweeney, off duty, but well armed. They whipped out their heavy service revolvers and potted the bandits as they ran out.

In the general melee one of the robbers dropped a large bundle of costly fur coats, a store of held up a number of women as a pretense to the cafe hold-up.

Premier Southern Grid Performers Among Dixie Athletes Who Face West's Best at Coliseum

Plans for another holiday football classic along the lines of the New Year's Day game in Pasadena became definite yesterday with an announcement by the Coliseum management that it will stage an all South-all West game in the big bowl.

HARRIERS WILL RUN SATURDAY

Annual Cross-Country Run is Scheduled for Ganesha Park

CLAREMONT, Dec. 5. (Exclusive).—More than 100 Southern California Conference athletes, attired only in the abbreviated costume of runners, will appear here next Saturday for the annual cross-country run at Ganesha Park.

The all-West run will be coached by Howard Jones of Southern California, coach of Washington and Bill Whittier of U.C.L.A., and will include runners from the Trojan team, Oregon State, Oregon, Oregon State, and U.C.L.A. Whittier, coach of the all-South eleven will be from Alabama, line coach; and Vanderbilt, backfield.

Bob Strehle, coach of the all-South eleven will be from Alabama, line coach; and Vanderbilt, backfield.

SOUTHERN STARS WILL PLAY HERE

And here's a couple of 'em who will participate in that all South-all West gridiron classic to be staged in the Coliseum Christmas Day. The one at the top is Bill Middlekauff, Florida captain and fullback, and the one below is Sharp, Vanderbilt center. They will be aided and abetted by a flock of other stars and all-American players from southern teams.

NATIONAL BOARD WILL NOT ALLOW BALL CLUBS TO LEAVE WESTERN LOOP

DALLAS (Tex.) Dec. 5. (P).—Efforts of the Tulsa and Oklahoma City clubs to bolt the Western League and join the Texas league and that body immediately settled the question in favor of the Western League.

In a long meeting tonight attempts of Tulsa and Oklahoma City to bolt the league were frustrated and a Western League for 1928 was adopted. The season will open April 12 and close September 23, it was decided.

The convention adopted a new constitution, the outstanding clause of which is designed to operate against major league acquisition of association clubs. The convention unanimously adopted a provision that the board of directors of the league must approve any sales, or must be given an opportunity to purchase any franchise for the league, in case the sale is not approved.

RABBIT PUNCHES

Los Angeles fans will be lucky in seeing Crowley, captain and end, and Wood, tackle, of the victorious Tech eleven in action here Christmas Day, as well as Georgia's two contributions to the All-American squad this year—Capt. Shivers and Nash, also ends.

In this respect the All-South team will certainly have the edge on the All-West team because Henderson of U.C.L.A. and Robbins and Logan of Oregon State.

Chief Newman's Colts After Third Championship

Indians Base Victory Hopes on Passing Attack

BY BOB MAY
"Chief" Newman's Covina Colts, who have dominated Southern California prep football ranks for the past two years and are now making an attempt to run their string of championships to three in a row, will play hosts to the Fullerton Indians this afternoon in a semifinal play-off battle.

Although the Colts are pregame favorites to win their way into the championship final, Coach "Shorty" Smith's Indians, who captured the Orange county loop title, have been working hard on an aerial attack which they hope will produce enough touchdowns to upset the Covina colts.

Johnny Hawkins, former Fullerton star, who captained the Trojans in 1924, has been helping the Indians perfect their passing game during the past week and Fullerton may have a lot of surprises to show the Covina fans.

GAME STARTS AT 3:15

The game is scheduled to start at 3:15 o'clock today, which should give the athletes plenty of time to reach a decision before darkness takes charge.

Covina will have the hopes of victory on a charging line and a flock of hard-running backs who have not been stopped since they hit their stride early in the season. Gains Shaver, whose efforts in the Covina-Fullerton game last week to believe that he is the best punter in Southern California prep ranks, is the dominant figure in the Colts' backfield. Most of the plays are built around Shaver, such as were the Trojans' plays built around Mickey Barry, or wherever happened to be in at the quarterback position, and he's a tough hombre to bring down once he gets in the open.

FISCHER ACE-IN-HOLE

Earl Needham, Anderson and Jernett are expected to be the other starting Colt backfield men. Needham is a bear on running interference.

QUAKERS PRAISED BY PRICE

California Grid Coach Claims Pennsylvania is Great Team

BERKELEY, Dec. 5. (Exclusive).—The University of Pennsylvania Quakers, under the personal direction of Coach Louis Alton Young, composed the strongest eleven on the Atlantic coast, according to the opinion advanced today by Coach Clarence "Nipper" Price of the University of California.

Price, who is coaching the Quakers, is a former player upon his return home after a trip east in which he acquired the Cornell Quaker "big game" and also witnessed the Army-Navy clash.

YOUNG DID WELL

In consideration of the fact that Young lost a big number of letter men at the outset of the season, that his schedule was really a difficult one and because of other hardships he did exceptionally well, Price states.

"The only eastern eleven to compare with Pennsylvania are Yale and Pittsburgh," it is Price's belief that Capt. Ed Hake and John Smith, the Penn tackles, are every bit what the critics say of them, that, in short, they are all-American and perhaps the "best set" of tackles in the country.

"Grantland Rice committed no error when he picked Smith and he didn't go far wrong when he picked Paul Scull for one of his halfbacks and called him with Cagle, the Army tackle, one of the most versatile halves in the country."

FOLSOM GUARDS TELL OF KILLING

Bloody Thanksgiving Riot Scenes Described
State Closes Case Against Accused Convicts
Defense Fights Hard to Save Six from Gallows

FOLSOM, Dec. 5. (AP)—Bitterly contesting every move by the prosecution in its efforts to hold the six convict leaders of the Thanksgiving Day riot for trial for the murder of Guard Ray Singleton, the defense late this afternoon gained a continuance until 10 o'clock tomorrow to whip its case into shape and bring witnesses before Justice of the Peace Leonard.

The State's case, presented in full today, was made up of testimony of three of the five guards implicated by the 1926 conviction and the assistant steward who saw Singleton just before he died of his stab wounds. The inability of one of the guards, however, to identify properly any of the convict leaders, was of more aid to the defense than to the prosecution.

But two of the six convicts, Anthony Brown, riot leader, and Walter E. Burke, were represented by counsel, but the hearing was not delayed to enable the others to procure attorneys, inasmuch as all facts brought out in behalf of Brown and Burke will apply to the other quartet. Ray T. Coughlin, Sacramento, who was one of the men fighting to save Floyd Hall, murderer and Sacramento Valley terrorist, from the noose in 1926, testified that the scene in 1926 was the same as today, represents Brown and Burke.

The feature of the day's session was offered by Lawrence Purcell, one of the guards held a prisoner for twenty hours, when he testified the convicts at one time intended lining up the guard hostages and making a break for liberty behind this human shield. They altered this plan, however, Purcell said, when the guards pointed out it would only mean the death of both guards and convicts as the men on the walls had orders to shoot to kill regardless of the consequences, if a dash was made for the walls.

Later, however, Purcell said, the guards when the firing was going on were forced to go to the front door of the library building, into which the prisoners were shooting, and ask that the leaden hail cease. He testified that the men fighting to save Floyd Hall, murderer and Sacramento Valley terrorist, from the noose in 1926, testified that the scene in 1926 was the same as today, represents Brown and Burke.

The inability of C. O. Nelson, guard, who was locked in a cell at the opening of the riot with six trustees, but who later was liberated when one of the men with him picked the lock, only to be returned later to identify the men accused for the defense. Nelson told of being locked in the cell after an ax had been held over his head, and of seeing men in the turnkey's office, but was unable to point out the man or call any of them by name.

PRISONERS SHACKLED
Guard R. H. McCarty, another of the men held as hostages, recounted the prisoners' movements during the night, and the statements he attributed to the leaders and covering their intentions of dealing with the guards is held by the prosecution to be very damaging to the defense case.

The assistant steward, A. W. Balder, who was the last man to see Singleton alive, testified to coming across the fatally wounded guard as he sat on a bench in the cell block, and of the man's efforts to explain by motions what had taken place, he being unable even then to talk.

The defense by the cross-examination indicated that no effort will be slighted in a bitter contest to save the six men from death on the gallows the prosecution hopes to bring about in payment for the uprising.

BRITON RIDES SKYLINE ROAD

London Editor Finds Bay Region Near Palo Alto Much Like England Countryside

BY PHILIP HEWITT-MYKING

Along the summit of the steep ridge of hills that forms the backbone of the peninsula runs the Skyline Boulevard. I should have thought that every San Franciscan who owned an auto would have been familiar with this road, but I found so little traffic that way yesterday that I think there must be one or two motorists yet who do not know what beauty lies thus close to their doors.

For indeed it is a very beautiful road, and the views one gets from it are not lightly to be forgotten. There is one place along its course where three sheets of water, of very different sizes, can be seen simultaneously below. To the left is a greenish-blue Pacific; to the right the deep blue water of the Spring Valley lakes, and beyond that, over an intervening ridge, gray-green San Francisco Bay.

It is not only in practical geography, if any teacher, anxious to illustrate such terms as "bay," "valley," "lake," "cape," "ridge" or "pass" were to bring his pupils to this place, but it is a most progressive with them in half an hour than he would in a week's work in a classroom.

FOREST WEAVES SPELL
But it is not only in practical geography, if any teacher, anxious to illustrate such terms as "bay," "valley," "lake," "cape," "ridge" or "pass" were to bring his pupils to this place, but it is a most progressive with them in half an hour than he would in a week's work in a classroom.

It is, however, as one drops from the road down the level woods that one feels the real spell of the forest. This narrow winding lane may be unimpressive, but even distant, without due caution, to auto, but driving along it one feels that San Francisco is a myth, that one is back in some earlier, saner age, before trees gave place to houses and wooden tracks to concrete sidewalks.

Down in the plain the district between Woodside and Palo Alto resembles more closely the English countryside than any I have seen in America. One finds, at this time of year at any rate, the same green of field and tree; the same rather narrow winding road; the same gently rolling land with miniature hills and valleys—even round some of the private dwellings there is an unmistakable English hedge, but eucalyptus and the fatal stabling of Singleton and the several other deaths at the hands of the law.

As on the occasion of their appearance in court here last week when the leaders of the riot were taken to the county jail, the three prisoners, James H. Brown and Roy E. Burke, another, and James Gleason and Burke, the third pair.

Court Argues Over Chinese Entry Papers
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Chinese citizens reaching the United States can be admitted only upon presenting proper certificates from the Chinese government, without regard to where they have recently resided, Solicitor-General William D. Mitchell argued today in the Supreme Court, on two cases.

The controversy was before the court on appeals taken by the government from decisions in the California Federal court, holding that Loi Hoa and Phuong Cong, Chinese citizens who had been living in French Indo-China, were entitled to admission at San Francisco upon certificates issued by French colonial authorities.

The Solicitor-General declared this was contrary to the practice of this government for more than forty years and that it would greatly complicate the work of enforcing the Chinese Exclusion Act and weaken its operations aimed to exclude certain classes of Chinese.

REMUS ASCENDS STAND BY PROXY

Questions Intended for Him Put to Secretary
Sibbald Charges Rum King Disposed of Property
Indebtedness of $200,000 to Wife Hinted

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5. (AP)—The prosecution today bent its energies toward proving George Remus, wife-slayer and "king of bootleggers," himself directed the disposal of property he has pleaded the woman he killed let go while involved in the immoral alliance with Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., which drove him insane. With the positive statement from Remus that he would not testify in his murder trial, the State drove at George Connors.

Connors, former bootlegger with Remus and asserted "lieutenant-in-chief" in the gigantic syndicate, identified himself as secretary to Remus since the second day after the defendant was released from the Federal penitentiary in September, 1925.

With that as a basis, Walter E. Sibbald, assistant prosecutor, laid scores of documents before Connors for his identification of signatures and contents.

IDENTITY REFUSED
Connors almost invariably refused, however, and equally as frequently he denied Remus had discussed certain phases of his criminal position. Sibbald, six feet four inches tall and with a base nose proportionate, asserted steps to Connors, in that way getting his ideas before the jury, despite Connors' retortations of "No, he didn't tell me about that."

"I can't identify that signature positively," he said.

"Did Remus ever tell you how much money he owed his wife?" and "Did she ever mention to you the fact she held his notes for more than $200,000?" were Sibbald's interrogations, which got negative replies.

Other questions dealt with whether Connors knew Remus had sent Mrs. Remus around to borrow money for "his general buy of food at the Atlanta penitentiary," whether Remus had ever told him that he had sent Mrs. Remus to borrow $2500 from this man and $15,000 from that.

They brought negative responses to did others concerning Remus' sale of his interest in nine distilleries with an aggregate value of approximately $1,800,000.

As Sibbald introduced his documents, evidence and asked it to Connors for perusal the trial slowed down to a walk.

It started fast enough, however, with Remus demanding Dudley Nichols, correspondent for the New York World, be cited for contempt of court and in the argument on his motion asserting his charge of intention concerning his witness-stand appearance.

In defending Nichols against Remus' attack, Charles F. Taft II, the county prosecutor, made a fiery speech since the trial started. He denounced Remus as in contempt of court if anybody was because of his continuous flow of observations into the press and issued a point-blank challenge to Remus to become a witness.

QUESTIONING NOT ENDED
Charles H. Eiston, co-counsel with Remus, informed the court he accepted the responsibility for Remus' refusal to testify. It would only waste time, he said, as the things Remus had intended to explain already had been brought out through the testimony of others.

The name of Dodge, the former Federal Department of Justice agent who obtained the conviction which Remus had pleaded insanity, was introduced as having been written by Remus to Mrs. Remus.

Sibbald said after adjournment until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning that he was forced to ask many questions that would have been put to Remus. He indicated that the cross-examination of Connors was nearly ended. Eiston said that the defense would rest its case within an hour after Connors left the witness stand.

CITY WINS IN FIGHT ON GAS SALES

Supreme Court Upholds
Right of Lincoln, Neb., to Operate Filling Station

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—Putting the stamp of official approval on the city filling station operated by Lincoln, Neb., the Supreme Court held today that municipalities legally can engage in the sale of gasoline and oil.

The decision is a defeat for the Standard Oil Company, which took the case into the Federal courts after the State courts had held that it was no violation of law for a city to sell gas in competition with private concerns.

The same question has arisen in other parts of the country. Lincoln's station has been in operation since 1924 and was declared to be taking away a substantial part of the business of the private stations because it was selling gas and oil at cost.

NORTHERN RAIL LINE MERGER ATTACKED

OLYMPIA (Wash.) Dec. 5. (P)—Opposition to the proposed merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads was expressed by John C. Denney, director of the State Department of Public Works, in a statement today. Denney's opposition was based on his belief that shippers would not receive any reduction in rates as a result of it.

That "more than one-third of the total area of the State would be left to the mercy of one railroad system," and that it would "create unbalanced competition."

New Mexico Loses Claim to

Shifting of River Basis of Suit Between States

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—The Supreme Court today handed down a decision to the effect that the boundary between New Mexico and Texas along the Rio Grande River will be located on the west side of a valley where the course of the river was in 1850, giving Texas unquestioned jurisdiction over about 24,000 acres of land near El Paso, claimed by New Mexico.

The decision held that New Mexico's claim that the river had changed its course since 1850 because of accretions and that the boundary line had moved eastward with the river, could not be entertained because New Mexico had recognized the location in 1850 as a permanent boundary.

The decision stated that the west bank of the river would start from the 32nd parallel at a point 600 feet west of Clark Monument No. 1 as re-established by the Clark-Cockrell Commission.

The court ruled that the new boundary is to be accurately surveyed and marked by a commission to be appointed later by the court.

CREMATION EARLY RITE IN ARIZONA

"Pit-House People" Used
Method 3000 Years Ago,
Excavations Indicate

TUCSON, Dec. 5. (P)—The "Pit House" people, who lived in the Southwest 3000 years ago, used thoroughly modern methods of disposing of their dead, if deductions of Byron Cummings, president of the University of Arizona, are correct.

Dr. Cummings found evidence in a village excavated in the foothills east of Tanque Verde that the bodies of the dead were cremated in urns. Thirteen of these vessels, sealed with clay and buried under a thick layer of ashes, were unearthed.

The pit houses excavated indicate that the settlement was fairly large and had been inhabited for many years. The urns were burned to a dull red by the heat used in cremating. Dr. Cummings estimated their age at 3000 years.

Charred corn was found in the village in addition to numerous "meat" and "bone" used to grind grain. Many fragments of pottery of excellent quality, along with shell ornaments and stone weapons, were found.

The "Pit House" people are the earliest inhabitants of which any trace has been found in the Southwest, Dr. Cummings said.

ECHO REVEALS OCEAN'S DEPTH

Coast and Geodetic Survey
Sound Gauge Perfected

Apparatus Functions on Ship
Going at Full Speed

Range Runs From Few Feet
to Hundreds of Fathoms

BY FREDERIC J. HANKIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—An apparatus capable of measuring ocean depths ranging from a few feet to 2500 fathoms or more, while the vessel on which it is installed proceeds at full speed has been perfected by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey during the past year, according to the annual report of the director, Col. E. Lester Jones. It is regarded as one of the most important contributions to deep-sea surveying and navigation in recent years.

For some time engineers and scientists here and abroad have been working on apparatus for measuring ocean depths in terms of time required for a sound wave to travel from near the surface to the bottom and the echo to return to the surface. It had been discovered previously that the sea bottom would give back an echo from a sound produced just below the surface and that with suitable apparatus this echo could be heard the greatest depths.

The time for a sound wave to travel from the bottom to the surface is a measure of the depth of water in that place, but since the velocity of sound in sea water is approximately 4800 feet per second the apparatus that records it must be of great delicacy and accuracy. It must be capable in measuring a time interval with precision that may be less than one one-hundredth of a second.

APPARATUS DEVISED

"Some two years ago," says Col. Jones, "an apparatus of this kind was devised by an American company and gave such promising results on an investigation by officers of the Coast and Geodetic Survey that this Bureau decided to co-operate in perfecting it. One such machine was installed on a vessel of the survey and subsequent improvements and refinements have corrected the defects in the original apparatus."

"During the last year the apparatus successfully passed all tests and was accepted for use in hydrographic surveys. Steps have been taken to install echo-sounding machines on nearly all the vessels of the survey." By means of this device it is possible without stopping the vessel to take soundings in any depths from a few fathoms under the keel to at least 2500 fathoms—15,000 feet—probably to greater depths. Its advantage for survey service, accordingly, is that soundings can be taken as rapidly as desired. More than twice as much area can be surveyed in a day with this apparatus than would be possible otherwise.

AID TO NAVIGATION

Important as it is to the surveyor, the device is said to be of even greater value to the navigator, since the master of a vessel equipped with an echo-sounding machine can feel his way at night and in stormy weather without stopping the ship.

While all the hydrographic parties of the survey were successful during the fiscal year, the outstanding accomplishments were on the Washington and Oregon coasts and in Southeastern Alaska. The survey ships Guide and Pioneer took, respectively, 35,000 and 29,000 soundings and fully surveyed areas of 2860 square miles and 2388 square statute miles, while the vessel Surveyor in Alaskan waters obtained more than 20,000 soundings and fully surveyed an area of 1255 square miles, extending as far north as Lituya Bay.

An event of importance during the year, according to the director, was the delegation to the Coast and Geodetic Survey of the task of producing airways maps authorized under the air commerce law of 1925. An effort is being made, it is stated, to produce accurate maps without going into the field to make special surveys for that purpose.

AIR MAP PROBLEM

The maps are on a small scale and the aviator does not require a high degree of accuracy with respect to multitude of minute details which would escape his attention during his rapid flight over the country. He does, however, require accuracy in the major features which engage his attention—highways, railroads and streams must be shown in their proper relation to each other.

Again, it is not enough merely to show a power transmission line following a road. The pilot must know at all times on which side of the road the line is located, as otherwise flying low in thick weather in order to follow the road as a guide he might collide with the line and crash.

The information which the survey is attempting to use in the production of the airways maps is derived from a variety of sources, such as the State maps and quadrangles of the Geological Survey, the post-route maps, highway maps of the Bureau of Public Roads, State and county maps, publications of commercial concerns, and finally a large amount of miscellaneous information derived from corporations or individuals and collected through correspondence.

"Recent trans-Atlantic flights have greatly stimulated the interest of the American people in aviation," says Col. Jones, "and it seems reasonable to expect that the demand for airways maps will increase faster than they can be produced under the program on which we are at present working."

"Provision for this increased demand should be made and covered in the estimates for the coming fiscal year."

American News Held Corrupting

ROME, Dec. 5. (P)—American news about divorce, crime, cinema stars' memoirs and amateur policemen, which is widely circulated in some sections of the Italian press, is corrupting the Italian taste, the ultra Fascist paper Il Tevere charges in today's leading editorial.

Il Tevere cites five or six stories with American date lines recounting jazz parties and nude styles and then declares it is useless for the Fascists to try to carry out their program to raise the morals, dignity and character of young Italy if the people are given such news. Anti-Fascist journals abroad are blamed for sending such news to Italy.

State Soon to Sell U.C.L.A. Building Bonds

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5. (P)—Funds for improving the University of California at Los Angeles will be raised by the State here on the 8th inst., when $1,000,000 of the State building bonds voted last year will be sold by State Treasurer Johnson.

The sale will be conducted under sealed bids. The building bonds are the only ones disposed of in this manner. In other sales public auctions are held.

The original building issue is for $8,500,000, of which $1,250,000 is for completing the Capitol extension buildings here. This block has been sold. A million of the balance is for an office building in Los Angeles and the balance for improving the State universities at Berkeley and Los Angeles.

Goff Upheld by Supreme Court in Yaselli Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—Charges of E. Paul Yaselli, former president of the Italian Star Line Steamship Company, that he was "maliciously prosecuted" by Guy D. Goff, now a West Virginia Senator, were thrown out today by the Supreme Court.

The court held that the lower Federal courts had not erred in holding that Goff was immune from prosecution because he had acted within his official duties as a prosecuting officer.

Yaselli asserted that the "malicious prosecution" took place in 1920 when Goff, as an assistant to the Attorney-General, brought suit unsuccessfully against Yaselli and others on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government in the purchase of a ship from the Shipping Board.

AID VETOED BY GILMORE

Acting Governor-General
Cuts Out Adviser Clause in

Appropriations Bill

MANILA, Dec. 5. (AP)—Acting Governor-General Gilmore today vetoed the clause of the appropriation bill passed by the Philippine Legislature which would have provided 150,000

He said the bill was unacceptable both as to form and amount, but declined to expand his statement. The clause simply said "Expenditures authorized by the Secretary of War, including employment of technical advisers to the Philippine government."

The Governor-General also vetoed a number of other clauses of the appropriation bill. The principal one appropriated 144,000 pesos ($72,000) to establish four new branches of the University of the Philippines, a government institution.

His vetoes, said Mr. Olinore, would be of about the same number as those of the late Gov.-Gen. Leonard Wood.

GERMAN WAGE ROW TO CLOSE STEEL PLANTS

BERLIN, Dec. 5. (AP)—The parties to the conflict which has developed in the iron and steel industry over increased wages today looked to the Minister of Labor for the solution of their difficulties. The German Federation of Iron and Steel Industrialists served notice that they will close down all plants on January 1, 1928. This is regarded as a move to scare workers into withdrawing their demands for wage increases and as paving the way to closing down unprofitable undertakings.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. It started from the opening from fresh scattered liquidation and renewed southern selling, accelerated by fresh weakness having developed at Liverpool.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (Exclusive)—After having made an extreme recovery of between 75 and 80 points from the low level of early last week to the high prices of Saturday morning, the market was ready for some setback of a technical character today, as most of the buying from the middle of last week had been covering of shorts. It started from the opening from fresh scattered liquidation and renewed southern selling, accelerated by fresh weakness having developed at Liverpool.

There futures started with a decline of 2 to 4 points with the market closing barely steady at a net decline of 10 to 13 points on the day, against what should have been unchanged for the late months to 3 points advance for the near to have met our closing prices of Saturday. Cables reported a slower spot demand than recently, with the price of mid-ling of 4 points from Saturday at 10.574 with the day's sales 7000 bales.

The market here followed the Liverpool decline and New Orleans later on followed ours, with an apparent withdrawal of the bull support that had been in evidence in this market from inside houses during the closing days of last week. This pressure continued until prices had made a maximum decline of about 35 points on the average from Saturday's closing. It brought December and January down to about 19.15 cents, March to 19.32 cents and May below 19 1/4 cents, from which there was only a moderate rally in the late afternoon.

It was really looked upon as mostly an evening up market for Thursday's government crop estimate, which will be the last of the year. The trade is expecting it will be between the 12,942,000 bales in the last monthly report, compiled from the November 1 condition, and 13,000,000 bales, although the average of about ten private crop estimates so far issued is a little above 12,850,000 bales.

Grain Futures
Down on Heavy
Profit-Taking

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (Continued)—Heavy profit-taking was on in the grain futures today, and there was a noticeable lack of the aggressive buying in much of the wheat and corn. Wheat futures for the week ending December 12, 1934, were 1.15 1/2 @ 1.16 1/2, corn 1.15 1/2 @ 1.16 1/2, and soybeans 1.15 1/2 @ 1.16 1/2.

The decline in wheat was helped along by pronounced weakness in Winnipeg, which fell 1/2 @ 1/2, and by the fact that the wheat market in Chicago was not as strong as it had been in the past few days.

The decline in corn was also helped along by the fact that the corn market in Chicago was not as strong as it had been in the past few days.

The decline in soybeans was also helped along by the fact that the soybean market in Chicago was not as strong as it had been in the past few days.

A marked improvement in the capital structure was brought about in 1926. The management of the company has always been reluctant to place separate issues of mortgage bonds against the operating properties, rather to achieve the added strength from the earnings of properties by a large issue which would be a prior claim on the earnings of properties in various localities.

Preferred stocks of subsidiary and affiliated companies decreased from $1,000,000.00 to $2,375,000.00; funded debt decreased $2,000,000.00 or 37%.

What Kind of Audit?

AUDITS vary in quality and scope. The Quality depends upon the experience, ability and application of the auditor; the Scope is a matter of your instruction.

Of course, Every Audit should be a Detailed Audit. This is an expert and independent study in detail of the items represented in mass by balance sheet figures. It discloses the many important facts underlying the figures; verifies; clarifies. It brings to light avoidable leaks and wastes; finds the flaws in accounting, in credit and collection methods; points to possibilities for greater profits, and is free from qualified statements of the balance sheet audit.

The Balance Sheet Audit, in spite of obvious limitations, when properly made is more than a mere building up of statements from book figures without careful analysis and substantiation.

The Balance Sheet Audit can be ordered with a specification calling for a partial Detailed Audit covering a period sufficiently long to give at least a cross section of the business and a picture of actual conditions.

JULIAN CHARGES MAY BE REFILED

Jury Says Jury Considers Many Reindictments

Old Case Dismissals Held Cause of Action

Prosecutor Also Plans for Office Shake-up

Indictment of several witnesses over the Julian Percepsion case, charges of conspiracy, was refiled yesterday by the district attorney, after the grand jury in session with grand jury foreman, J. H. Keyes, had considered the grand jury's reindictment.

In addition, to the fact the district attorney has admitted that he is considering an early change in the prosecution of his office. How long the reindictment will be in effect, is not known.

NOT SATISFIED
Reason that grand jury members are dissatisfied with the dismissal of the Julian case, which indictment was returned after many reindictments, is the fact that the grand jury members are dissatisfied with the dismissal of the Julian case, which indictment was returned after many reindictments.

On November 28, last, on motion of the district attorney, Superior Judge James H. Hoge, dismissed the indictment against Louis B. Mayer, a partner in the Julian Percepsion case, and the grand jury members are dissatisfied with the dismissal of the Julian case, which indictment was returned after many reindictments.

OTHERS DISMISSED
On October 8, Judge Hoge, also on motion of the district attorney, granted dismissals of indictments against Louis B. Mayer, a partner in the Julian Percepsion case, and the grand jury members are dissatisfied with the dismissal of the Julian case, which indictment was returned after many reindictments.

CLEWS HUNTED TO HER DISAPPEARANCE

June Blossom Laughlin

Police late yesterday were working on a mystery angle in connection with the disappearance Sunday afternoon of June Blossom Laughlin, 14 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Laughlin of 2215 South Harvard Boulevard, and Mary Jane Carroll, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Carroll of 3221 South Carondelet street.

The disappearance of the two girls also marked the disappearance of clothing and imported tapestries in the Laughlin home valued at close to $4000, according to Mr. Laughlin.

The finding in a vacant lot adjoining the Laughlin home of a little blue dress and a pair of sandals, known to have been worn by the Laughlin girl only a few minutes previous to the time she and the Carroll girl, who was visiting her the week-end, are believed to have left the house, added perplexity to the search.

The two girls were last seen a few minutes previous to the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin from San Diego at 1 p.m. Sunday. According to Mr. Laughlin, his wife had telephoned that morning from San Diego, notifying the housekeeper, who was sharing the care of the two girls with friends during the Laughlin's absence in the southern city for the week-end, that they would return at that time.

The case is being handled by Harry K. Powell of the crime prevention division.

The Laughlin girl is described as weighing 125 pounds, being five feet one inch in height and having dark bobbed hair.

The Carroll girl weighs 120 pounds, is five feet four inches in height and has black bobbed hair and gray eyes.

The case is being handled by Harry K. Powell of the crime prevention division.

STORM BATTERS WINEVILLE AREA

Fifty-Mile Gale Writes Epic in Sand

Resulting Damage to Fruit Not Serious

Dunes Grow on Lawns and Right of Way

Residents of the Wineville district between Ontario and Riverside were busy yesterday digging themselves out from beneath an avalanche of sand which had drifted deep over highways and yards driven by a fifty-mile north wind that caused extensive damage to trees and wrecked many small buildings, especially in the western section of San Bernardino county and in Orange county near Santa Ana.

Citrus trees for the most part escaped harm except in some sections of Orange county where the damage to the crop was estimated at between 5 and 10 per cent.

The landscape yesterday was strewn with wreckage, debris and fallen branches while workmen labored on main highways and along railroad and electric rights of way to clear off mounds of sand and fallen trees.

MOTORISTS STALLED
More than thirty motorists were stalled on Valley Boulevard east of Quana, while the wind ripped the tops from several of the automobiles, caused two or three more to be abandoned and drove a fierce sandblast which stripped the paint from the sides of many of them.

Eleven women and eight children were removed from the storm zone, while Officer J. Boone and a rescue squad of six were kept busy helping motorists extricate their cars. East-bound traffic was sent north through Upland and over Highland avenue which was swept clear of sand by the high winds. Wesley Wheaton, Riverside merchant, was picked up by deputy Sheriff Stockton of Los Angeles in an unconscious condition after his coupe had been blown from the road and wrecked.

HANGAR AWRY
The Ontario airport hangar was blown out of shape and planes were removed to a point of safety. Just east of the business center of Wineville, a number of small houses, garages, and two blacksmith shops were completely demolished and the remnants scattered over the surrounding country.

Sand dunes drifted two feet high in front of the postoffice and stores in Wineville. F. R. Henderson, living near by, had to dig his way out of his house following the storm. The main highway was cleared by tractors, while gangs of workmen succeeded in shoveling sand from the Union Pacific road and keeping the line open, although trains lost more than an hour in traversing the blocked territory Sunday night.

BOGIES RIPPED OFF
In Riverside the wind ripped off boughs from pepper trees and pieces of eucalyptus bark bombarded motorists and littered highways and streets. Car rights of way, interrupting electrical service between Riverside and Arlington. Financial loss was small except from destruction of chicken coops and other small buildings.

Along Magnolia-avenue drive damage was the worst within the limits of the city where bark and branches were torn from trees, littering lawns, sidewalks and roadways, obstructing both pedestrians and motorists. Yesterday after the wind had abated residents along the street were kept busy throughout the day chopping off hanging boughs, clearing up the streets and cleaning their homes, which were filled with fragments of twigs and leaves.

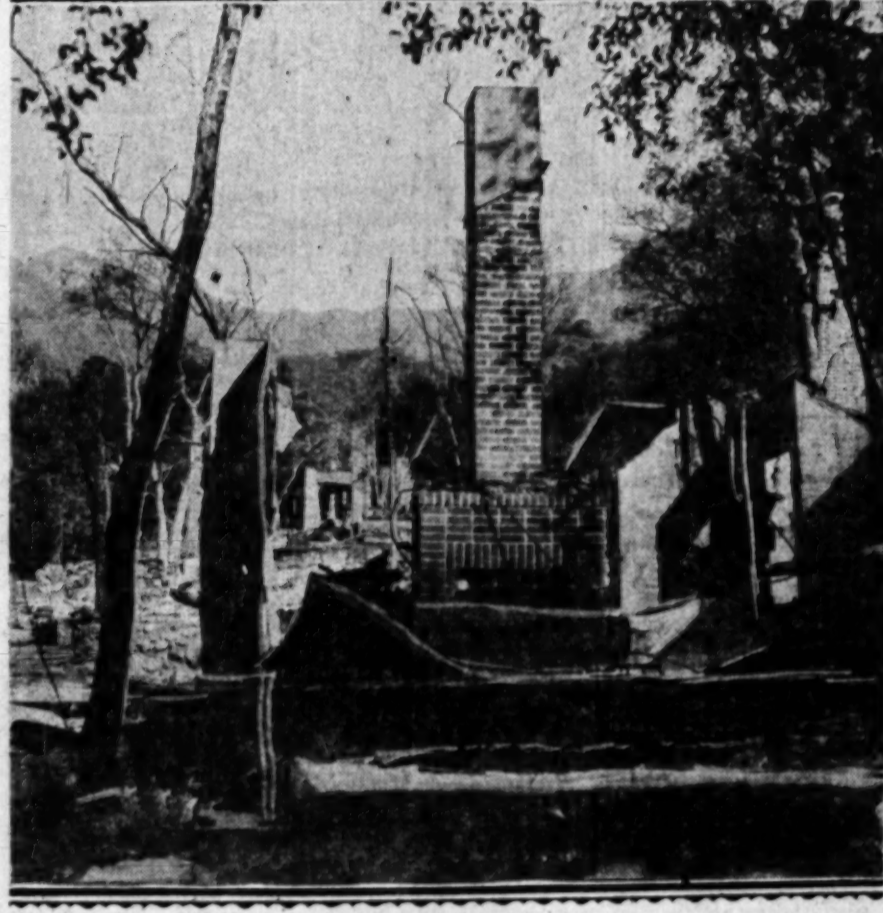

Officials of the citrus industry declare that crops suffered considerably in Orange county to the tearing away of weaker boughs and to the burning quality of the gale.

A fruit stand at Olive was blown down and a number of smaller buildings collapsed.

The wind in Orange county attained an approximate velocity of fifty miles an hour, according to H. E. Walburn, farm advisor.

J. P. McCoy, horticultural commissioner of San Bernardino county, said fruit in that territory was but slightly damaged.

Southern California Council of Religious Education Prepares for World Convention Here in July

Representatives of seventeen Christian denominations in Los Angeles united as auxiliary units of the Southern California Council of Religious Education when the organization opened its drive for funds to "place their house in order," prior to the world Sunday-school convention which will meet in Los Angeles next July, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. W. C. Pearce, general secretary of the Southland council.

"Spiritual literacy is our nation's greatest menace," said Dr. Pearce, who is also associate general secretary of the World Council of Religious Education, "and the co-ordinated effort of our many denominations in Southern California to expand its present program and provide for greater progress is one of the finest demonstrations I have ever seen in my thirty-five years of contact and active work in this movement for the education of our youth along the paths of righteousness and self-government."

INITIAL NEED TOLD
The initial need in the present campaign is for funds to procure and install permanent improvements and new buildings at Ivywild Park, the summer school for training leaders in the four-fold life—religious, mental, social and physical. This will necessitate $10,000. The total budget that will be provided in the present drive will be $40,000, which, in addition to clearing Ivywild Park, will care for the balance of the current expenses and other needs of the council.

PARK REMOVAL SOUGHT
The Citizens' and Taxpayers' Protective League of Highland Park yesterday petitioned the City Council to remove all other poles from York Boulevard to the alley in the event an ornamental lighting system is established there.

MILLIONS LOST IN FIRE AREAS

Brush Flames Subdued Over Four Districts

San Bernardino Sections Still Ablaze

Glendale Plans Check Dams to Prevent Peril

With four or five devastating forest fires reported as extinguished and the fifth well under control, Southern California yesterday ended two days of heroic efforts to check the advance of flames, and last night began to count the cost. In the five fires, which for thirty-six hours balked every combative move of several thousand men, many thousand acres of valuable watershed were destroyed, a loss which can be but vaguely estimated. Beside this more than ninety homes were destroyed in Sunset Canyon with an estimated loss of $500,000 in home valuations plus a similar amount in furnishings and art collections.

The four fires reported as extinguished are: Verdugo Hills, San Antonio Canyon, San Andres Canyon and Mint Canyon.

Plunge Creek, and other points in the San Bernardino fire area, are still burning, but well under control.

VERDUGO FIRE OUT
While the Verdugo Hills fire, the aftermath of the disastrous blaze which raged Sunset Canyon and menaced Burbank and near-by towns for hours, is reported as out, every precaution is being taken to guard against a renewal of the fire, which established itself as one of the most disastrous in years. Hundreds of men were thrown into the 7000-acre burned area to "cold-trail"—concentrating on embers and smoldering trees in the destroyed district.

The Verdugo Hills blaze was halted yesterday morning at the last fire-break separating the thickly wooded hills from Brand Park Estates and the city of Glendale. It was brought under control only after several hundred acres of valuable watershed in the park had been destroyed.

Sensing the danger presented by the watershed destruction, Mayor Harry G. McBein of Glendale announced yesterday that a series of check dams to control the run-off of flood waters will be started. It is estimated that the fire burned over more than 400 acres in the park, on the north side, leaving the lower end untouched.

A well-defined water channel through the park offers a serious menace to palatial residences in Brand Park and along Kenneth Road unless the check dams are constructed before the next heavy rains. It is reported.

SCOTCH KIBRIS
In the fire-swept area, nothing but smoldering embers in the leaf-mould remains to present any serious difficulty to the remaining fire fighters. It is reported from Glendale. Such danger spots will be eradicated by the hundreds of men now working in the area. It is stated, but the work will occupy another two or three days.

The Verdugo Hills blaze, which started near La Crescenta, swept over the hills into Sunset Canyon and then split into two main lines, one running west along the ridge to be finally checked beyond Stought and Tuna canyons, and the other running south to the edge of Glendale. The northern extremity of the blaze also has been extinguished and authorities reported that there is no property damage in either Stought or Tuna canyons. The main portion of the former was saved from damage.

J. H. Burris, living on Carr avenue in La Canada, will be questioned today by County Fire Warden F. W. W.

The Lancer

Harry Carr

VERY strange incidents have occurred in the terrible hill fire that has been roaring through the canyons.

Especially as it affects the little wild people.

Hundreds of rattlesnakes have been roasted out of their winter slumbers. Fire fighters tell me that they come out buzzing and rattling, looking for revenge. They constitute one of the worst dangers of fire fighting.

If they can't find somebody to bite they usually crawl right back into the flames. Dear, they say, are very likely to do the same thing.

You often hear such warnings cited as proof that animals commit suicide. I don't believe it. No doubt this apparent madness is the instinct which impels them—seeing a fire coming toward them—to get out of the path and dash through to the other side of the flames—get back of it instead of in front.

SEEN THINGS
Excited scientists in Paris are debating the meaning and significance of the report that a Russian explorer has found a prehistoric karstosaur as big as ten elephants in the nearly discovered range of Siberian mountains.

The real significance is that Russian vodka still retains its strength and potency. About two snifflers of this pale, water-colored hooch and a beet tick assumes the proportions of a bon construtor.

ON JOYOUS REASON
About this time of the year it is very hard to make the human heart glow with the Yuletide spirit.

You go from store window to store window like a lost soul. All you can see are mannequins in the wrong color and books relating to cavalry tactics.

About August 1 a cloud comes over my life which gets gloomier and thicker as the days go by. After Christmas you have a few days when you feel as one dead when the Jemits finally say: "Well, I guess that finishes the Job."

But it doesn't last long. Presently the calendar smiles you with the fact that the birthdays are beginning again.

It's a hard life, mates.

BING SWERT TO CRIMINALS
It is announced that the villainous young wretch who tried to dynamite his school-teacher mistress in a little Illinois town as "compromised" with the public prosecutor. He has confessed to the attempted murder on condition that he shall not be prosecuted for the crime.

The District Attorney Thurny assures the public, however, that the fellow will have to stand punishment for other crimes aforesaid. Probably for the crime of having lighted a fire before the legal hour of the morning.

No compromise should ever be made with criminals—no matter what the purpose of the object. It is an exhibition of pitiable weakness on the part of the law. A criminal should be taught that it is about as safe to stand on a railroad track and try to compromise with the approaching locomotive.

Tomato Vender Convicted of Sale Fraud Under New

Resulting from the campaign recently started by Deputy Hortiprovisions of the California Fruit,

Act of 1927, George Downe yesterday pleaded guilty to violating the new law and fined $25 by Municipal Judge Wilson.

Downe, who operated fruit stall No.
24 at the Grand Central Market, Third and Broadway, was accused of deception in the sale of tomatoes, or for having displayed a superior quality of tomatoes to those which he sold.

At the same time Deputy Commissioner Wilson announced that the public can look forward to the arrest of a number of other merchants new act.

The defendant received the alternative of five days in jail, but chose

The local regiment's commanding

On being forced to learn from the first cry of the new born infant to the last gasp at death, we are constantly engaged in a struggle to live and be happy in the midst of a world of suffering and sorrow. However, my experience with teaching the public through my private practice and also by writing and lecturing, has convinced me that one who really believes himself perfectly well will not make the slightest effort to remain so.

Those of you who are reading this article are really interested in health as much as you think you are, and out a way to get well easily and quickly. Do not try to fool yourself that this is not so. My words will be read with dull eyes by those who are not suffering from some physical discomfort or who are not afraid of "stuffing of this mortal coil."

Only when pain or death are knocking at the door will the average person be willing to listen to reason about changing bad habits to good ones. Of all the letters that I receive each day from readers of this paper, not one has ever asked me to point out the way to stay well.

This article is not written to point out to you the fundamental truth that the only purpose you have in studying diet is to cure yourself of disease, or prevent death. Although I know this to be true, I want to urge you to begin your diet study at this time, a few days before you find yourself on the banks of the River Jordan.

Do not waste time fretting and strutting your head upon the stage of life with a pill bottle in one hand and an ambulance telephone number in the other! Start in now making a study of nature's laws while you have yet time to revise your habits of life, and learn to live with more abundant health.

To help my readers to arrive at a well-regulated diet I have prepared a special article called "A Good Curative Diet," setting forth a suggested diet to follow. Write to me care of The Times if you wish to have this article sent to you. Make your letter brief. Just ask for the article on "A Good Curative Diet."

Nature is not unkind or ungenerous but if you continue to violate all reasonable rules of life you must expect the inevitable consequences in pain or death.

There is a true science of life for you to study just as surely as there are rules of chemistry and good science cannot be learned by intuition or inspiration. There is no magic you can use which will change the rules of chemistry that govern the body.

Foods are good for you or they are not good for you. One food comes with another food harmoniously or it does not. A certain quantity of food is helpful, while a little more of the same food will produce disease. All these facts you can learn by study and experimentation, and your experience with pain should be lessening to assist you in understanding food science all the better. In this way you can live in peace and health and be free from pain and laugh at the "grim Reaper."

"Toys for children!" my dear Madam! What we sell are toys which the grown-ups like. Most adults do not know how to buy toys for children. For a two-year-old, you say? First I suggest balls of all sizes, hard balls, soft balls, any kind of ball. Balloons are good too. These teach children muscular and mental activity. They teach coordination, self-control. Things like carpet sweepers are incentives to activity. Anything which can be pushed or pulled is great fun in the toddler's age.

"Don't forget that play is the real work of a young child. Play is his means of getting acquainted with and adjusted to his surroundings. I read a sentence like this, and I wish I could use it as a motto in my toy shop. Let the child's toys keep pace with his mental age. That means we must not give him toys which he is not old enough to manipulate." Nancy felt the shop keeper had talked sense.

Buffalo Bill, Scout of Scouts—Part XXXII. A Dangerous Mission.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

YOUNG BILL CODY'S FAME AS A SCOUT HAD PRECEDED HIM INTO THE ARMY, AND HE FOUND HIMSELF CALLED UPON FOR SPECIAL SERVICE. IN TENNESSEE ON ONE OCCASION, GENERAL SMITH SENT HIM THROUGH THE SOUTHERN LINES IN DISGUISE TO GET SOME INFORMATION.

AS BILL WAS LEAVING CAMP, HE CAUGHT A CONFEDERATE CARRYING IMPORTANT DISPATCHES BEHIND THE UNION LINES. HE AT ONCE RECOGNIZED THE MAN AS NAT GOLDEN, WHO HAD WORKED WITH HIM FOR THE FREIGHTING COMPANY IN KANSAS.

YOUNG CODY MADE NAT GIVE UP THE MES- SAGES HE CARRIED. BILLY READ THE PAPERS, PUT THEM IN HIS OWN POCKET, AND CALLED LOUDLY FOR THE CORPORAL OF THE GUARD.

WHEN THE FEDERAL SOLDIERS CAME TO ARRESTED NAT, BILLY MERELY GRINNED. HE HAD TAKEN A PRISONER. BY MEANS OF HIS NAT AS A SPY, HE SAVED HIS COMPANY FROM FIRING SQUAD.

ANGELENOS FIND
LURE IN DANGERThree Hundred Volunteer to Accompany DyottBoys and Men in All Walks
Plead for ChanceDescendant of Daniel Boone
Ought to Qualify

"May the route of the air mail win in Lindbergh's case," wrote an editor Los Angeles volunteer in applying to join Commander George M. Dyott's expedition in search of Col. F. H. Fawcett, missing Brazilian explorer.

More than 300 readers of The Times volunteered to go with Commander Dyott on his hazardous expedition to the Brazilian jungles.

Nearly half of them used the air mail to speed their applications to New York after Commander Dyott's appeal was published in this newspaper.

Raleigh Russell, former Los Angeles resident, is a member of the party Commander Dyott hopes to rescue. Col. Fawcett also was accompanied by his son, Jack Fawcett.

Applications have been received from men in varied occupations in Los Angeles. A draftsman, a pharmacist, a gardener, a rancher and two blood-donors were among the volunteers. A descendant of Daniel Boone also is ready to go.

A boy of sixteen wrote: "I think you could take along a capable boy as well as an experienced man. I might also be a companion for Jack Fawcett, for I am sure you will find them alive or dead."

In a certain article in The Times the commander said that a quiet man was essential. One writer said: "I read with interest that you want a quiet man. I am not a woman, I am a man and therefore can't be a chatterbox, as you term it."

Another wrote: "This expedition appeals to me more than I can express and to give a list of my qualifications would probably displease with your editor's silence in camp." An extract from another letter says:

"GOLDEN SILENCE
"You say you want a quiet man. Here of course the proof of it being so, is in the eating for every man refuses to think of himself as a gourmet. For my companions I usually seek interesting people who wish to beg the conversation, preferring to think out and write down what I have to say."

Health and ability to make one's self generally useful were also listed by the commander as essentials. One young man wrote, apparently somewhat excited:

"Excepting at the time of the removal of my appendicitis I have never been ill a day in my life. I have inherited the endurance of my grandparents, who are healthy octogenarians and nonagenarians."

Another Los Angeles volunteer had crossed the continent and returned by car at a cost of $210, and pointed out: "If you will meditate over these things you will realize someone sure to be pretty handy."

A cynical young man wrote at length, asking why such a call for a volunteer should be broadcast over the country. He said:

"DOUBTING THOMAS
"If that ad was on the square—and I can't conceive of it being so, because of such foolish procedure—then I am fool enough to send in my application, so as to bring it up to the level of a 1,000,000. That's what I call being consistently American."

He lists among his "thermo-qualifications": "Can absorb as much heat as a Southern California scorpion."

Never dreaming that more than 15,000 applications would be received by Commander Dyott, one optimistic boy wrote:

"To my way of thinking such an adventure with its risks and uncertainties, will not bring forth many answers. Nevertheless, were there 10,000 applicants, I should still feel that it was to myself that this advertisement was directed." The same confidence was expressed by the man who began:

"Please do not look for another man after you will receive this short note, because you have found it. I know that I will qualify for your expedition to the Brazilian wilds because it is my hobby to romp about the wilds of old to nature."

LITTLE TO LOSE
"Nobody cares for me," a 19-year-old boy wrote pathetically, in telling of his complete freedom from home ties.

California is full of adventure-seeking youths, eager to get away from the routine of every-day living. One said: "Being more or less reclusive by nature and having naturalistic tendencies, I prefer life in the open to the snugness of cities." Another stated:

"On reading over your article for the tenth time, I'll say that I am willing to learn. I know very little about photography, radio or canoeing, but am acquainted with guns. I like outdoor life tremendously. I am not overly fond of talking. The pay for such a position is not of great interest; I would consider the experience and the travel reward in itself."

Though doubting his only connection with your expedition will come through the newspapers, I have enjoyed being able to even write to you and I sincerely hope that you and your companions will buck your way through to success."

QUESTIONS OF OWN
Not content with listing his own qualifications, one man, "24 years young," had demands of his own to make.

"I can take orders, can be a good soldier under a good man. Are you a good man?"

Commander Dyott is completing his plans for the expedition. Col. Fawcett went into the Brazilian wilderness in search of an ancient civilization. Nothing has been heard from him and his companions since May, 1925. Commander Dyott is confident he will find them.

R.F.C.A HAS BUSY MONTH
During the month of November the humane officers of the Los Angeles Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals made 225 calls, examined 991 large animals, destroyed one and suspended three on account of being unfit for labor. A total of 102 small animals was involved. The officers also made thirty-five trips to poultry houses, six to packing-houses, three to pet-stores, forty-one to motion-picture studios or on location, and five to roosts. There were three arrests and convictions. The kennel department cared for 442 dogs, 20 cats, 4 goats, 2 horses, 1 seagull and 1 guinea pig.

The latest and most powerful machine to fight forest fires races on steel wheels on railroad tracks to the point nearest the fire, then changes to rubber-tired wheels and goes on. One engine drives it and at the fire operates pumps for four streams of water.

CINEMA STUDENTS TO GIVE PLAY
Entire Set Designed and Built by Class at U.S.C.

CONSTITUTING the first presentation of the work pertaining to the motion-picture field inaugurated this fall at the University of Southern California, the students and faculty of the school of architecture are to present "The Melancholy Pierrot" Thursday evening in the patio of the school at 61 West Thirty-fifth street.

Classes majoring in technical training for the cinema have designed and executed the scenery, costumes, lighting effects and entire set. The play will be preceded by a prologue consisting of dancing in the sunken garden of the patio, while the invited guests will view the en-fire producer from the surrounding cloister of the open-air setting.

In two scenes, the fantasy will be presented by the following cast: Pierrot, Miss Avalon Daggett; Pierrot, the Fat, Lloyd Cranley; Pierrot, the Melancholy, Prof. Clayton Baldwin of the school of architecture, and instructor in design in the motion-picture curriculum; Harlequin, Francis Mehan; Marquis, Virginia Arnold; Marquis, Herbert Pratt; the Post, Fred Rice and a guide, Walter Zick. Miss Virginia Riedinger, student in the school of speech, is director.

The Royal Mint makes coins for West Africa, Cyprus, Palestine, the East Indies and many other remote countries.

Women are invited to take the place of Dr. Lovell's usual talk at Manufacturers' Building, 130 Broadway, at 1:30 o'clock.

Women are especially invited to this lecture and demonstration by viewing models. Mrs. Harris's system of physical correction is de-claried to be quite different from physical cultur as ordinarily taught.

Overweight and underweight, their cause and cure, abdominal breathing, high heels and the resulting weakness to the internal organs, causing a waddling gait, sagging shoulders, drooping knees and flat feet, will all be considered.

Models will demonstrate the correct physical walk, how to sit on a chair and how to embody the correct principles in daily life. The most attractive feature of this talk is the explanation of the case with which the bodily changes may be brought about. Ample seating capacity will be provided.
